Brittany Cole

CAREER
THRIVERS.

HELPING ORGANIZATIONS CULTIVATE AN INCLUSIVE CULTURE TO DEVELOP AND RETAIN DIVERSE TALENT.

Every experience is an opportunity for continuous improvement!

Brittany Cole lives by this motto as a speaker, coach and consultant that is passionate about equipping women and diverse millennials to thrive in the workplace!

As a former sales and marketing leader at Pfizer, Brittany has experienced how intentional leadership development increases colleague engagement, accelerates career achievements and drives business results.

In addition to her corporate successes, Brittany has built Career Thrivers which is a leadership development firm that partners with organizations to cultivate an inclusive culture where women and millennials believe they belong.

Brittany studied Political Science and Communications at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville and earned a certification in Strategies for Building and Leading Diverse Organizations from The Harvard Kennedy School of Public Policy.

Beyond her work with Career Thrivers, Brittany and her husband Joseph enjoy hiking, concerts and exploring their hometown of Nashville, TN. Let's thrive, together!

TESTIMONIALS

"I was just so blown away by a phenomenal presentation by Brittany Cole on personal branding!"

- Stone, Tech Entrepreneur

"I'm here to tell you that Brittany really did an excellent job today! Brittany did an outstanding job [speaking] on building your brand!"

- David, Founder and CEO of the National Sales Network

"Such a dynamic speaker! I could not have asked for a better situation tonight, she was rigorous. She was challenging. We all walked away with something we can use immediately. I was very proud, and I would definitely recommend her for anybody that wants to use her as a presenter."

- Kim, Executive Director of Chattanooga Women's Leadership Institute
